Your Personalized Strengths Insights

What makes you stand out?

Chances are good that you might be fascinated with certain ideas, policies, or philosophies that affect human beings around the world. By nature, you may enjoy the company of people who have faced and conquered some of life's difficulties. Perhaps they have gained wisdom you lack. Occasionally you benefit from their philosophical insights. Instinctively, you sense every event is somehow the consequence of a series of actions, reactions, or lack of actions. You can accept that which cannot be fully explained using logic. You say there are no accidents. You are confident that things are linked together for a purpose that may or may not be revealed to you. Because of your strengths, you may be guided by the notion that no one can live life without some help from others. Perhaps this idea compels you to consider how what you do and say affects people you know and individuals you will never meet. It's very likely that you may welcome all kinds of people into your circle of friends, family, or acquaintances. Perhaps you have an ability to bond with individuals without expecting them to conform to your way of thinking, working, or living. Sometimes you revel in the diversity of humankind, rather than complain that every person, language, and culture is different. Maybe you have concluded that people are inextricably linked with one another as well as with everything in the universe.
